NOTABLE WOMEN ON CAMPAIGN OF STATES FOR MR. HUGHES

Unique Gathering of Writers and Lecturers of Gentler Sex to Arrive Here Oct. 20; Mrs. Ainsworth Heads Committee

As recently announced, Mrs. Chas. F. Ainsworth is in charge of the arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the women's campaign train for Candidate Hughes, which will spend October 20 in Phoenix and vicinity. There will be a reception committee of one hundred the personnel of which is now being selected, and there will be numerous other committees to attend to specific matters, all of which will be announced in due season.

The following named women are thus far cooperating with Mrs. Ainsworth in the preliminary organization work: Mrs. Richard E. Sloan, Mrs. Paul Renau Ingles, Mrs. Barnett E. Marks, Mrs. Walter Bennett, Mrs. Sherburne Jencks, Mrs. Joseph R. Kibbey, Miss Nell Wilkinson, Mrs. Thomas E. Campbell, Mrs. Fred Adams and Mrs. Dwight H. Beard. Those interested are invited to watch these columns for announcements and the development of plans.

It is expected that members of the party will be able during the day to visit some other points in the valley, but in any event the women of Mesa, Glendale and Tempe and perhaps other places will be asked to cooperate.

The train will arrive at 7:35 a. m. and depart at 6:20 p. m., October 20, giving practically all the daylight of that date to the Salt River valley. This train will undoubtedly bear the most notable aggregation of educational, political, sociological, editorial lecturing and authorship specialists among the women, that ever crossed the continent in one party. At least it will be with certainty the most notable party that ever united its energies in the interests of any presidential candidate.

The train will be managed entirely by women, and its tour is under the joint direction of the National Hughes Alliance, and the national republican committee. Leading women of the respective states as the train passes through them, will join the party as train guests remaining with the train until succeeded by others on similar missions from the permanent passenger list the personnel of the train occupants will be constantly changing.

This is to be one of the big features of the campaign not only in Phoenix, but the country over, and one that everyone will look for with interest. The local meetings will be presided over by men speakers, and the addresses will be directed to both men and women.

WOMEN VOTERS TO MEET IN THE OFFICES OF THE HUGHES ALLIANCE

Almost everybody who reads the Phoenix papers is apprised by this time of the fact that a goodly number of women have been meeting regularly in the Central school building on some kind of a political stunt, but just what it is a lot of people have not yet figured out. This is the what and the why of it.

The organization is known as the Women's Republican League of Arizona. Though its sympathies are partisan, the meetings are hardly to be so considered, for the chief purpose is to develop among women a clearer idea of how to vote, what to vote for, or against, and to discuss the relative merits of issues represented by constitutional amendments, initiated laws, etc. While there is a sincere underlying desire to make a republican voter every woman who attends, those of doubtful or opposing affiliation are by no means excluded.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the office of the Hughes Alliance, 18 North First avenue, former quarters of the Phoenix Title and Trust company. This will probably be the permanent meeting place until the need of larger quarters becomes imperative. The various amendments have been discussed in a general way and will later be taken up individually. The subject for the next meeting, Tuesday night, will be "The Story of Mexico," and it will be told by Miss Bernice Warren Eggleston.

EMERSON LEWIS CALLS ON HUGHES ALLIANCE

Among the callers at the headquarters of the Hughes Alliance yesterday was Emerson R. Lewis, treasurer of the Woodruff Trust Company of West, Ill. While the errand of Mr. Lewis in Phoenix is a purely business one it is made in the course of a tour of the west for the purpose of organizing the business men of all the coast cities into a Hughes movement of business men in all parts of the country, of in eighty cities having a population of more than 50,000.

This movement was started by Charles H. Sherrill, of New York, who was minister to Argentina under the Roosevelt administration. Though Mr. Sherrill is a republican, he is purely non-partisan, and in which an appeal should be made to the business interests of the country, and it is desired to enlist in it men of all parties who had not taken an active interest in politics, but who believed that in view of the problems that would confront the country after the White House.

Mr. Sherrill is an old friend of George Woodruff, president of the Woodruff Trust Company and of the Illinois State Bankers' Association. He called upon Mr. Woodruff and listed his interest in the movement, and the latter assumed responsibility for the organization in forty cities west of the Alleghenies. This territory was sub-divided, and to Mr. Lewis, the associate of Mr. Woodruff, was assigned the organization of the coast cities of Spokane, Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

That work has now been completed the most satisfactory manner, and the interest of hundreds of business men who have never before concerned themselves with public affairs has been enlisted. The members of each organization pay the expenses of the work. If they or their subsidiaries cannot take the time to do it themselves, they employ persons to do it for them and see that it is done. The president and secretary of the various city organizations are among the foremost in the business life of each city, and as a rule are men who are for the first time taking an active interest in politics.

Mr. Lewis mentioned particularly the case of Mr. Hamburger, the foremost merchant of Los Angeles, who told him last Saturday that he never before felt any concern in political affairs, but he realized now that the prosperity of the country after the war would depend upon the election of Mr. Hughes, and that he would spare neither effort nor money in doing his share. He also showed Mr. Lewis several threatening letters he had received since his announcement

JEROME DAISY COPPER STOCK ALLOTMENT IS OVERSUBSCRIBED

(Special to The Republican)
JEROME, Ariz., Oct. 1.—Nine days from the date upon which they first made known their plans to the public, the organizers of the Jerome Daisy Copper Company tonight announced that the two hundred thousand shares of pre-organization stock offered at fifteen cents had been oversubscribed by more than one hundred thousand shares.

Tonight the mail brought in checks for over fifty thousand shares. These will be returned tomorrow by Secretary A. J. Kieselburg. Informal applications have been received for nearly a hundred thousand shares of treasury, although the price at which this will be offered has not even been announced. One of the most remarkable features of the Jerome Daisy organization is that over half the pre-organization stock was taken right in Jerome, where the Jerome Daisy group of claims is known to everyone.

MCKENZIE MEETS OLD PARTNER AT OATMAN

(Special Correspondence)
OATMAN, Ariz., Oct. 2.—A grizzled old miner rode more than 30 miles over the rugged mountains of Mohave county on a burro to meet his former working partner, Norman J. McKenzie, republican candidate for state mine inspector. It was a joyous reunion, this meeting of two old comrades of the Colorado mines. And it showed but another instance of the manifest loyalty of Norman McKenzie's friends. He is meeting hundreds of them on the campaign trip, and particularly in the mining camps where they all know and respect him.

Jack Brayton was the old-time miner who made the long and arduous trip to greet Mr. McKenzie. Upon his arrival here he escorted the candidate about the various mines and properties and introduced him to hundreds of miners. Brayton will accompany Candidate McKenzie to the various states as the train passes through them, and will be a constant presence in the campaign.

Among the other friends of Mr. McKenzie, whom he met here, was Jack Lamb who was his drilling partner when the present western rock drilling championship at Leadville, Colorado, a number of years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Lamb entertained the candidate at their home, and had present a number of miners with their wives. Before the dinner was ended a McKenzie Club was formed and everyone present pledged themselves to begin an active campaign in behalf of Norman J. McKenzie the only practical miner who is seeking the position.

MIAMI CON STOCK SELLS BRISKLY

The stock of the Miami Consolidated Mining company was put on sale at the office of Hal C. Prince yesterday in Phoenix and the demand was very brisk.

Telegrams were received from eastern points and many conservative business men of Phoenix, realizing the possibilities offered, invested their money gratifyingly in that most of this stock is being bought as a permanent investment rather than with the idea of mere speculation.

In Globe and Miami the same thing was evident, most of the stock being purchased in small blocks by miners who are familiar with every foot of the property.

Due to an exceptional rush in Globe and Miami J. C. Cook was forced to give up his visit to Phoenix and will leave tonight and go direct to New York. There he will join Harry Lewis and together they will begin final arrangements for listing Miami Consolidated on the New York curb.

If things keep up at the present rate it is safe to say that by the end of the week the Phoenix statement will be more than sold out, but inasmuch as many authorities on mining who have inspected this property predict that it will be in the near future one of Arizona's greatest copper producers it is logical that the stock should be popular with the investing public.

THIS IS THE PLACE—W. E. Mansell, salesman for the Southwestern Livestock Exchange, has just returned from southern California with a fine shipment of dairy cattle, which he is offering at a low price. Rhoades and Rhoades, in regard to the dairy business of California as compared with that of Arizona, Mr. Mansell says: "There is no place where the dairymen have the opportunity of making money, which they have here. With butterfat as high as in California, and feed at half the price, there is simply no comparison."

that he would take an active part in the Hughes campaign.

One point made by the businessmen who are enlisted in this movement, is that if Mr. Hughes is elected, it is a good thing for them as they are convinced it will be, it must be a good thing for their employees, for without the prosperity of the employer, there can be no prosperity for the employee. Nothing they attempt to show can be more foolish than the doctrine of the demagogues that the interests of the employer and the employee are in conflict, and that the latter can be served by producing a condition unfavorable to the employer.

FINANCES AND MARKETS

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]
NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (Wall Street).—The stock market today entered upon the fourth quarter of the year with every indication of a continuance of remarkable activity of the preceding month, although quotations suggested an accession of bearish aggressiveness. Dealings again attained the impressive total of 1,050,000 shares, but a very large portion of the turnover occurred in the first and final hours, the intermediate stage being marked by relative dullness and uncertainty.

There was nothing in the general news over the week end to cause any diminution of the optimism so long prevalent in speculative circles. On the contrary, numerous additional

Many an old timer walked into the office and plunked down his money. The remark that he had been waiting for years for somebody to take hold and develop them, always intending to come in to the full extent of their means.

Doxens of people who had not actually been on the property, walked out to the Jerome Daisy and looked over the ground before investing, not one of them the trip without filing an application later. The famous Verde North vault is covered for a distance of six hundred feet by the claims which the Jerome Daisy holds in its own name free of debt.

The principal formation is an immense iron caping carrying low copper, gold and silver values. It is said that an iron capping is a sure indication of ore in the Verde district. This rapping is over the United Verde a mile distant, and over the United Verde Extension half a mile further away.

statements of earnings submitted by railroads and industrial companies were of the most encouraging character, these with scarcely an exception, showing large gains for the fiscal year, or in excess of corresponding periods of 1915.

Shares of the coal roads gave the market its stability at the opening. Realizing sales exerted their usual influence in this quarter and trading in industrials, equipments and marines with gross advances of two to five points in many leading stocks. United States Steel main-activity and closed at the slightest fractional loss after an extreme decline of 1½ points.

Heavy dealings in international bonds denoted an intense active demand for the new quarter with some trivial concessions in speculative values. Total sales of bonds, par value, $47,515,000. U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Emphatic bullish advice from Argentine today made wheat values higher and higher. The close was strong at 1½¢ net advance, with December at 1.15¢ and May at 1.15¢. Corn gained 3/8¢ to 1.15¢, and oats 1/8¢ to 1.15¢. In provisions the outcome ranged from 1/8¢ decline to a raise of five cents.

Brought ravages in Argentine began to lift the wheat market right from the outset, and there was no radical setback at any time during the sea-voyage. Special attention was given to the dispatch of Rosario, the center of the dry district, telling of serious damage from the long continued lack of rain and saying that all crops at Minneapolis and Duluth counted against the bears, and so too did Liverpool advice of a scarcity of world shipments failed to act as an offset. On the contrary, the bulls seemed much encouraged by reports that foreign buyers were active purchasers of cash wheat and of future deliveries.

Notwithstanding that the United States visible supply total showed an increase of 1,000,000 bushels, the effect on the market was of little if any advantage to the bears. The reason seemed to be that the enlargement was less than one-sixth as great as at the corresponding time last year.

Corn derived most of its strength from wheat. Soft wheat merely reflected the action of other cereals.

Big receipts of hogs pulled down provisions. Close:

Corn—Dec. 1.15¢; May 1.15¢.
Wheat—Dec. 1.15¢; May 1.15¢.
Oats—Dec. 47¢; May 75¢.
Pork—Dec. 22.40; Jan. 22.17.
Lard—Dec. 12.47; Jan. 12.97.
Rice—Oct. 12.50; Jan. 12.50.

MARKET NEWS
By R. Allyn Lewis

The Journal Miner says: Green Monster is now the star performer in the Verde mining district. A few days ago a four-foot body of copper sulphide ore was encountered in the shaft being sunk on the Missouri, and about the same time, a strike was made on the Amazon claim. The news of the strike on the Missouri claim was carefully guarded and the Journal Miner is the first newspaper to give publicity to this important information. The Missouri discovery is little less than sensational. The ore averages 17 per cent copper and its value is realized when compared with United Verde ore which averages 6 per cent. For weeks Green Monster stock has been marking time at from $2 to $2 1/2 a share.

Wild fluctuations in industrial stocks drive the speculators from the rails' small capitalization makes a large ad and make the investor conservative choice probable on any good news.
